ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Three Selective Service offices in St. Paul and Minneapolis were raided Saturday night or early Sunday and extensive damage was done to records and office equipment.

$100,000 Damage
Col. Robert P. Knight, director of state Selective Service, estimated the loss at some $100,000—most of it in manpower required to straighten out salvageable records and gather new ones.

Demonstrators To Retaliate

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Some dissident youths have vowed to resume a destructive rampage in the college community of Isla Vista when remaining National Guardsmen are withdrawn.

"We have nothing against the Guard," said one girl. "But when they leave get ready, 'cause we're going to give the pigs hell!" "Pigs" was a reference to peace officers.

More than half of the guardsmen were pulled out Sunday—leaving an estimated 200 to 300 to back up an equal number of sheriff's deputies, police and highway patrolmen.

Maj. Gen. Charles A. Ott Jr., the Guard commander, said all troops might leave Tuesday if all remains calm.

In three nights of violence last week, before the guardsmen arrived, youths fought police with rocks and bottles and burned a Bank of America branch office to the ground. They also smashed store windows and set fire to a patrol car.

Officers have arrested 141 persons since the trouble started last Tuesday.

Light rain put a damper on demonstrations Sunday for a second day, but some youths said the main reason for the continued calm was the presence since Friday of guardsmen, many patrolling with bayonets fixed on rifles.

One Isla Vista youth who felt the violence would not resume after the guardsmen left said: "People have made their point that they're fed up. Hopefully, someone will listen."

The youths said they were protesting what they believe is harassment by local police, high rents in the community of 13,000 adjacent to the university campus, and the "capitalist establishment" in general.

See Darker Days For Coffee Users

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail coffee prices are expected to soar this year and may cut even deeper into American consumption of the country's favorite brew, government and industry experts say.

Average prices already have climbed to the highest levels in a dozen years and the ceiling is not in sight. The Bureau of Labor Statistics said retail coffee prices last month averaged 82.5 cents a pound, up more than two cents from December.

A year earlier the BLS average was 76.2 cents. And for all of 1969 the average price was 76.5 cents, only one-tenth of a cent more than in 1968.

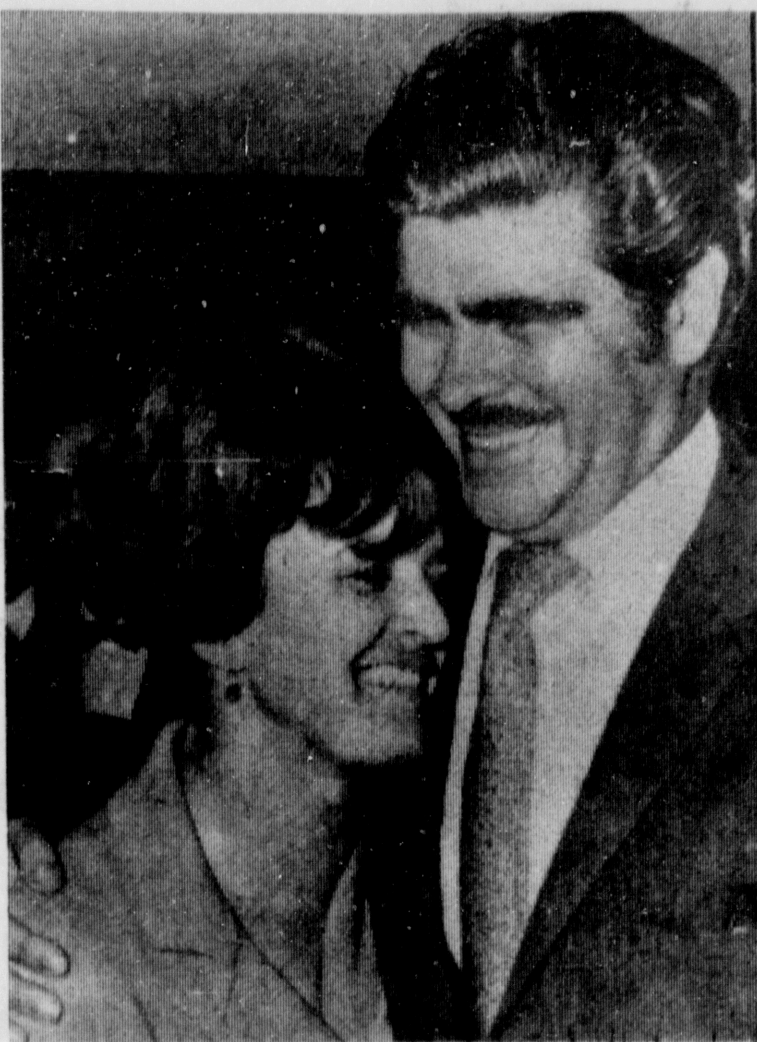

But a killing frost last July in Brazil, the world's chief exporter, severely damaged trees which produce coffee beans.

U.S. Treasure Ship Seized By Cubans

MIAMI (AP) — Ship radio reports today indicated a Cuban patrol boat had escorted into Cuban waters an American treasure-hunting craft it had boarded on the high seas.

A spokesman in Washington for the firm that chartered the Jocelyn-C for treasure-hunting tests said at least five persons were aboard.

The U.S. Coast Guard in Miami refused to comment. Marine broadcasts monitored in Miami said Cuban seamen boarded the 65-foot red, white and blue Jocelyn-C Sunday and removed two Cuban crewmen before beginning escort of the American boat into Cuban territorial waters just off La Isabela on the island's northern coast.

As the Jocelyn-C and the patrol boat traveled the 140 miles from the point of the reported boarding to La Isabela, the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Steadfast watched off shore. The cutter remained outside Cuba's three-mile limit.

Only four of the persons reportedly aboard the Jocelyn-C were identified immediately.

N. Vietnamese On Prowl Inside Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Two companies of North Vietnamese troops have been sighted between the Communist-held airstrip at Muong Soui and Sala Phoukhone, the key junction on the highway between Vientiane and Luang Prabang, informed sources said today.

The sources believe the North Vietnamese may be preparing to attack the road junction to isolate Luang Prabang, the royal capital, from Vientiane, the administrative capital 140 miles to the South.

The North Vietnamese force was believed to number about 200 men.

Geographical Split Reported In Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican is being split in two geographically, and the split falls largely along ideological lines. Some liberals don't think that's a coincidence.

On orders drawn up in the Secretariat of State and approved by Pope Paul VI, Vatican bodies created during and since the second Vatican Ecumenical Council are being relocated at some distance from Vatican City.

"Reasons of space" is the official explanation for the moves. But some liberal clerics working for the Vatican consider it an attempt by conservatives to isolate the new Vatican organs from the rest of the Roman Curia.

The new bodies, such as the Secretariat for Nonbelievers, hold a preponderance of moderates and liberals. The old bodies, such as the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, are run largely by conservatives.

Vatican organs currently located in the new quarters—the sprawling four-story San Calisto

Palace in Rome's colorful Trastevere quarter are the Commission of Justice and Peace and the Council for the Laity, both originally located there; the Secretariat for Non-Christian Religions, moved there from quarters near St. Peter's Square three weeks ago, and the Secretariat for Nonbelievers, moved this week.

An attempt was made to relocate the Secretariat for Christian Unity to San Calisto but the staff declined to move.

Conservative thinking, one liberal asserted, came down to this: "To make sure you're not infected by the Council, put any of the germs that may be around, or those carrying them, in quarantine."

It is a comfortable quarantine, however. The San Calisto Palace has spacious, high-ceilinged rooms and corridors.

No announcements were made about the transfers, but a prelate in the Vatican's Territorial Administrative Office said the moves were initiated by the secretariat of state and approved by Pope Paul.

Nation's Courthouses Slated For Disorders

Chicago Trial Attorney Back Of Bold Move

LOS ANGELES (AP) — William Kunstler, defense attorney in the Chicago riot trial, has called on young people to demonstrate peacefully "at every courthouse in the nation to fight political oppression."

Kunstler said Sunday that demonstrators were responsible for the release on bail Saturday of the seven defendants convicted on riot and contempt charges.

People's Victory

"It was a people's victory," the 50-year-old attorney said. "The seven would still be in Cook County Jail if people hadn't gone into the streets for them. The people united behind the bail question and intimidated the court."

The U.S. 7th Circuit Court of Appeals overturned a ruling by the trial judge, Julius J. Hoffman, who denied bail on the grounds the defendants were "dangerous men" and their appeals were "frivolous."

Speaks In Rain

Kunstler—accompanied by Tom Hayden, 29, one of the defendants, and Leonard Wein-glass, 36, his fellow defense attorney—spoke to an umbrella-toting crowd in cold, drizzly weather from a platform in back of a Unitarian church in Sepulveda. Police estimated the crowd at about 3,000.

There were no incidents during the rally, sponsored by The Conspiracy, a California organization raising money for the appeals of the five defendants convicted during the trial on charges of crossing state lines to incite rioting during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Appeals Cost Cited

The appeals will cost $250,000 to $500,000, Kunstler said.

Hayden, free on $25,000 bail on his five-year sentence, said he and his fellow defendants were "stand-ins for the new generation."

"We stood for an incendiary idea, the most incendiary idea in all history—all power to the people," he said. "This is the motto of the new generation."

Reagan, Judge Hit

He described Judge Hoffman, President Nixon and California Gov. Ronald Reagan as "dinosaurs, on the verge of extinction."

Reagan has directed the state attorney general to investigate whether Kunstler crossed state lines to incite to riot when violent demonstrations broke out in the University of California at Santa Barbara community of Isla Vista after a speech the lawyer made last week.

THE SEVEN DEFENDANTS in the Chicago conspiracy trial held a press conference after being freed on bail Saturday. The 7th Court of Appeals granted their request for bail. Left to right, Lee Weiner, Rennie Davis, David Dellinger, Abbie Hoffman, Tom Hayden (behind Hoffman), Jerry Rubin and John Froines. Dellinger is holding his three-year-old granddaughter. Oil Well Fire Problems Far From Settled

VENICE, La. (AP) — It sounds like a thousand jets thundering as the giant finger of flame rises from the big offshore oil platform, weaving a blanket of gray smoke over the Gulf of Mexico.

The platform houses a dozen oil wells, owned by Chevron Oil Co. It broke into flames three weeks ago and today the platform, 30 miles off the southeastern Louisiana marshlands, is a tangled web of steel.

Fire fighting specialist Red Adair's crew is working to try to snuff out the fire and cap the wells. Before flames engulfed it on Feb. 10, the 12-well cluster was producing 900 barrels of oil daily.

There will be another problem when the fire is extinguished—oil will spill into the Gulf and may contaminate rich oyster beds.

Company officials said there is no way to estimate how much oil will spew from the wells because they are not sure how many in the group surfacing at the platform are producing.

"We're not going to make mistakes made before, like the Torrey Canyon," said Tom Riggs, assistant general manager of Chevron, referring to the big tanker which hit a reef and blackened the Cornish coast of England with its oil cargo in March 1967.

He said a likely way to handle the spill would be to station barges around the platform to scoop up the oil as it pours forth.

Just when Adair's crew will try to snuff out the fire is not known.

Third Party Dies From M-28 Crash

MUNISING (AP) — A third member of a Kalamazoo family has died as the result of a head-on collision on M 28 in northern Schoolcraft County last Thursday.

Douglas Runsat, 14, died Sunday in a Munising hospital. Officials said he suffered internal injuries in the crash.

The youth's father, Robert Runsat, 37, and brother, Rock, 7, were killed instantly in the wreck.

Jewish Leaders, Pompidou Confer

NEW YORK (AP) — French President Georges Pompidou meets today with leaders of Jewish organizations to discuss the pro-Israel demonstrations that have marred his visit to the United States.

More mass protests were expected today but spokesmen for the Jewish groups said Sunday night they "deplore any use of disorder or physical force to express our anguish over French Middle Eastern policy."

Panetta Blazes Away At Agnew, 3 Other Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — A recently fired administration civil rights official says four powerful White House aides are to blame for slackened government school desegregation efforts.

The charges were made as Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, head of President Nixon's special cabinet-level task force on school desegregation, declared the panel would not "give support to any evasion of the law."

Leon E. Panetta, dumped by the White House as civil rights head for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, also said the vice president and two senators played major roles in his ouster.

Moon Dust Vial Reported Stolen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A vial containing about a spoonful of moon dust is missing, the first loss in 50 displays of priceless lunar samples.

Officials disclosed Sunday that the vial, containing 2.3 grams of material from lunar rock No. 50 brought to earth by Apollo 11, disappeared the night before during a charity affair for scientific research that included a $100-a-plate dinner.

"I'm going to call it a theft," said Steven Lawrence, business manager of the institute of Geophysics at the University of California at Los Angeles, who arranged the display. "But I hope it was a joke and we'll get it back."

Several persons from the institute were with the display, he said, but there was no guard "as such."

Police and the FBI said they were investigating.

In Houston, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it had not authorized the exhibit, and that about 50 samples had been displayed with authorization and without a loss.

NASA assigned the sample last November to Dr. George Weatherill of the institute for analysis to determine its age.

"Much of its value has been extracted," Weatherill said. "But we were going to try to work on it some more. It's possible we would have found something very important scientifically."

He estimated the sample's age at 3.7 billion years, the same as other samples analyzed elsewhere.

School Boycott

RIVER ROUGE (AP)—Some 800 black students boycotted classes today at River Rouge High School in this downriver Detroit suburb.

The school was closed last Thursday after racial clashes broke out between students. The school has an enrollment of between 1,200 and 1,300 students—about 50 per cent of them black.

Atomic Carrier Costs Soaring

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy isn't sure how much its newest atomic-powered carriers will finally cost, but there are indications the ultimate price will exceed already historic high estimates.

Congress has appropriated more than $1 billion for the first two ships in the Nimitz class, making the two supercarriers the most expensive U.S. warships ever built.

The estimated $536 million cost for the Nimitz and $510 million for the Eisenhower, compare with the $474 million price tag on the nation's previously most expensive ship, the pioneer nuclear carrier the Enterprise.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird says the estimated prices of the Nimitz and the Eisenhower could go higher.

After three years of preparations, the Navy is negotiating with the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., Newport News, Va., on a "fixed price incentive fee type" contract covering the Nimitz and the Eisenhower.

However, Navy officials have advised Congress that even when the contract terms and pricing arrangements are settled, they still will not be able to accurately predict the final cost until actual construction is well advanced.

This is so, officials said, because there are so many uncertainties involved in building these complex warships that it is impossible to know in advance exactly how much effort will be required to build them.

H.N. To Stage Old Fairy Tale

The age-old tale about the princess and the pea, will be presented by the Holy Name Drama Club on March 8, 9, 10 and 11.

"Once Upon a Mattress," the school's 4th musical, was first produced off-Broadway at the Phoenix Theater in New York in 1959. It was written by Jay Thompson, Marshall Baren and Dean Fuller. Its star, Carol Burnett, got her start in show business, as Princess Winnifred, the lead character.

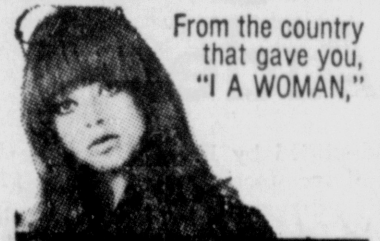

This fairy tale as produced at Holy Name will begin with a prologue by the minstrel played by Mark Williams and Greg Gerou. Making their appearances as Queen Aggravain are Pat Chaudor and Helen Kelly. As Dauntless, Paul Guenette and Bob DeCamp are featured. As the girl-chasing mute king, Sextimus, Steve Ammel and Pete Houle are cast.

The parts of the young lovers Lady Larkin and Sir Harry are portrayed by Patty Meehan and Sharal DeGrave; Dave Oslund and Mark Piniski.

Princess Winnifred, the husband-hunting girl, will be characterized by Beth Knauf and Chris Nault.

Brother Christopher is directing the musical, with Sister Henriette assisting. Mrs. Donald LeMire is conducting the music for the production. Mrs. James Wils, assisted by Nancy Brandt, is doing the choreography.

A new feature for this musical, which will be presented in the multi-purpose room, will be a moving wall. It will consist of two walls, with scenes on both sides, that will jack-knife open and close for change of scenes.

Rapid River Schools Face Critical Election

By DAVE ANDREWS
RAPID RIVER — The future of the Rapid River schools, at least as far as the educational program for 1970-71 is concerned, may hang in the balance April 20.

Supt. of Schools Gerald E. Manville said that's the tentative date set by the Board of Education on what may be the most critical millage election held by the district in recent years.

The proposals haven't been set, he said, but the amount of millage requested could range from 8.25 mills to 13.25 mills. Of that, 5 mills would be to replace millage which expired last December.

"The five mills has to be replaced or we'll be faced with an emergency, austerity budget," Manville said.

Meeting March 9
Any millage proposal beyond that, he indicated, will rest with the Board of Education and the recommendation of a large citizens advisory committee which has been working with the board. The citizens group will meet March 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library to consider the question.

Decision by the Board of Education must be made by March 18 to meet the election deadline set by law.

Manville, who is recommending the district seek 13.25 mills, said that when the Citizens Committee first began meeting it was hoped that the district could initiate an improvement program by simply adding five mills to the level of local support for the schools.

No More Aid
Since that time, however, developments in Lansing have indicated that there will be no improvement in the state aid formula for local schools and that "just to stay even" with the present program the district will need another 3.25 mills. The formula hasn't been adopted, he emphasized, but that's the way it looks.

He said that 12 to 15 per cent increase in the district's operating budget is "built-in" in salary adjustments, increased costs of materials and supplies, etc., in this period of national inflation.

Considering that additional local millage probably will be needed to "hold the line," Manville said there are three basic proposals under consideration for the district:

- 13.25 mills — This would replace the 5.0 mills which expired; provide 3.25 mills for the "built-in" inflation of school costs, and provide 5.0 mills for improvements such as new buses, added teachers and finance purchase of portable classrooms;

- 10.0 mills — The original millage figure considered by the citizens committee and Board of Education, this now would replace the 5.0 mills which expired, provide 3.25 mills for the "built-in" inflation and provide 1.75 mills improvements for the district;

- 8.25 mills — A "hold the line" figure designed to provide the 5.0 mills to replace the expired millage, plus provide 3.25 mills to meet the "built-in" increase in costs.

Manville said the proposal with five mills for improvements was developed after a five-year projection was made in working with the citizens advisory committee. He said the group, school board and school administration were "trying to shape some basic improvements" in the school district's program.

The citizens group now, he said, will have to determine the "maximum level of financial support the people will give" to the district and make its recommendation to the school board.

Lenore Prepared For 'Showdown'

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Lenore Romney said Saturday her name will be placed in the Michigan Republican primary as a candidate for U.S. Senate — whether or not state GOP leaders give her their "consensus" support.

Republican party leaders will meet in Lansing March 7 to decide whether they will give her the "consensus" tag. Mrs. Romney failed last week at a similar meeting to garner the 75 per cent of the votes necessary to define a "consensus," even though all other candidates had withdrawn by the third ballot.

Efforts to name a "consensus" candidate were made in the hope of avoiding a costly and bitter August primary.

Mrs. Romney told newsmen she is a healthy and willing candidate, and politically "separated" from her husband, George, who is now secretary of housing and urban development.

She explained that she meant she would run her own campaign, but hopefully with occasional help from her husband.

School Measure Debate Reaches Seventh Week

LANSING (AP) — A welter of familiar but difficult issues awaits the Michigan Legislature tonight as it begins the third month of its 1970 session with little to show for the previous two.

The House faces its seventh week of debate on a $1.2-billion school appropriation bill. House Speaker William Ryan, D - Detroit, scheduling morning and afternoon sessions from Tuesday through Thursday, said he foresees a "mood" developing this week for a final vote on the bill.

Before that vote comes, however, opponents of a controversial $22-million section allocating state aid to parochial schools are expected to renew efforts to defeat it. The House also faces a commitment to increase taxes by some $300 million should the school aid bill pass and be sent to a conference committee in its present form.

It is generally assumed the Senate will reject House addition of some $278 million to its bill.

Gov. William Milliken, who opposes the House's expanded version of his own $948-million school aid plan, last week called for prompt action on the bill. Milliken also criticized delay on a related measure to close several exemption loopholes in state sales and use taxes, saying the state already has lost $2.5 million while waiting for legislative action.

More Senate debate is expected on the latest proposal to return the state to Daylight Savings Time. Sen. Raymond Dzendezel, D - Detroit, proposes a constitutional amendment that would put Michigan back on Eastern Daylight Time during summer months. Approval by two-thirds of both chambers and subsequent voter ratification at the November election would be required before the plan could be adopted.

Sen. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood is scheduled to have a hearing by the upper chamber on his bill allowing the State Officers Compensation Commission to meet at any time to approve retroactive changes in legislators' pay and expenses.

Mack contends the $3,000 annual expense allowance is inadequate for Upper Peninsula legislators.

Recession Sign?

Tax Delinquency In City Up 19%

The collection of county and school taxes in the City of Escanaba has declined sharply compared to a year ago — from 87 per cent in 1968 to 68 per cent in 1969 — and what it means is anybody's guess.

"The delinquency is the highest in many years," said City Treasurer Don Guindon, without speculating on the reason for it.

County and school taxes are payable without penalty until Feb. 15 and after that date a penalty of 4 per cent plus 1/2 of 1 per cent per month applies.

Here's the way the comparison on payment for county and school taxes in the city shapes up:

• 1968 — Total levy $1,087,949; total collection $954,122; balance $133,827. Collected — 87.70 per cent; due — 12.30 per cent.

• 1969 — Total levy $1,326,943; total collection — $904,212; balance $422,731. Collected — 68.14 per cent; due 31.86 per cent.

The information concerning the decline in county and school tax payments in the city is contained in City Manager George Harvey's news letter to the City Council.

The letter includes a report from City Assessor Charles Schmidt in which it is announced that Dec. 31, 1969 was the official tax day for 1970. The base for each taxpayer's 1970 taxes is one-half the cash value of the taxable real and tangible personal property owned on that day.

Notices have been mailed to all real property owners who have an increase in assessment. Personal property notices are still being processed.

If the property owner feels his assessment is in error and the assessor will not make a satisfactory adjustment, he may appeal the assessed valuation to the Board of Review on March 9 and 10.

If the property owner cannot get a satisfactory adjustment in assessed valuation from the Board of Review, he may complain to the State Tax Commission before May 4, 1970 by letter. The State Tax Commission will notify the property owner of the time of the hearings which will be held in the county.

Capt. Fry Earns Olmstead Award

Capt. Michael D. Fry of the U.S. Army, former Escanaba resident, has been awarded an Olmstead Scholarship.

This scholarship is granted by a private foundation and is based on the concept that an Army officer should have an understanding of international affairs and foreign cultures. It provides for two years of study at any foreign university in any subject.

Capt. Fry plans to study political science at the Graduate Institute of International Studies in Geneva, Switzerland. He hopes to get in as much study as possible on African governments, a subject in which he developed a strong interest while suspending a summer in Sengal as a cadet on Operation Crossroads.

Fry was an honor graduate of the class of 1962 of the Escanaba Area High School. He ranked number one in his class, was a member of the National Honor Society, and served as class president during his sophomore, junior and senior years.

He was a recipient of an Anna C. Norton Scholarship and the Rotary Watch Award. He was a member of the 1961 football team, that was undefeated and awarded the Barber Trophy as the U.P. Champions. At the close of the season, Mike was chosen the most improved player with the best team spirit. In addition he was a member of the tennis team, E Club, Orange and Black, and active in dramatics.

Graduating from high school, he entered the U.S. Army Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., and graduated in 1966. He served in Vietnam until wounded by shrapnel from a Vietcong mortar shell. After release from the hospital, he had various assignments around the United States. He presently is assigned to Fort Riley, Kan., where he serves as Battalion Operations Officer in the 24th Infantry Division.

Capt. Fry is the son of Mrs. Fredrick House now of Rockport, Mass. While living in Escanaba, she was a teacher at the Franklin School for several years.

LSD Babies

How often have followers of the New Morality defended use of marijuana, LSD, and other drugs by saying: "It's all right, so long as it doesn't hurt anybody else."

Well, if this standard and none other is applied to the use of LSD, it now becomes clear that the drug must be strictly regulated and kept out of the hands of thrill-seekers. Evidence is becoming conclusive that this hallucinogenic drug is not only destructive of the person who uses it but also of his unborn children.

Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, three well-qualified doctors conclude that use of LSD may damage the chromosomes of parents and thus lead to serious birth defects.

The three doctors, all of the Mount Sinai School of Medicine at the City College of New York, cite in particular the case of a badly malformed infant who died shortly after birth.

Both parents had taken several doses of LSD, in the father's case four years before the child's birth and in the mother's case nine months before conception. Both parents were found to have chromosome breaks.

The mother had also used marijuana, barbiturates, and methedrine during pregnancy, but none of these drugs had been found to cause chromosome damage, the doctors said.

Neither the father nor the mother was aware of any congenital defects in the family.

According to the doctors, chromosomal damage in both parents resulted in the infant being born with low-set ears, a broad nose with a prominent bridge, poorly formed wrists, a left hand with four fingers, a right hand with six fingers, loose skin on both hands, and numerous internal defects.

The child died of respiratory distress nine hours after birth.

Other medical authorities have reached the same conclusion concerning use of LSD: It may cause chromosome breaks, and such damage appears to be permanent.

This is a story which needs to be recited again and again in homes, schools, and churches. Young people must be made aware of the possible consequences of thrill-seeking experiments with LSD.

It is a story, too, which should cause the public to demand stricter control over production and availability of the drug.

Restricting The Press

First the lawyers and now the psychiatrists are telling the news media that freedom of the press should be restricted.

If certain elements in the American Bar Association had it their way, the public would learn almost nothing about a crime until long after its commission — after the suspect had been taken to trial and found guilty or innocent.

The lawyers claim, of course, that they merely want to protect the rights of the defendant which they say are infringed upon by pre-trial publicity. The fact that publicity generated by the press often helps the cause of justice goes unmentioned by the factions who wish to silence or stifle the voice of the press.

A psychiatrist has now jumped into the attack on the news media and suggests that the government should license reporters. The remarks of Dr. W. Walter Menninger cannot be passed off as the opinion of a single psychiatrist. He is a member of the blue-ribbon National Commission on the Causes of Crime and Violence, established at request of the White House.

Dr. Menninger is saying that some members of the press are unfit to report the news. This is undoubtedly true, but there are a few incompetents in every field. Does this mean they should be controlled by the state?

Dr. Menninger could use the broom on his own profession.

A group of his cohorts thought nothing of "analyzing" former presidential candidate Barry Goldwater through the mail. Their own psychiatric association denounced the poll as a fraud yet presumably none of these "licensed" practitioners has been stripped of his couch by the profession.

More to the point, however, is the fact that a press regulated by the government is not free. The power of licensing is too susceptible to corruption.

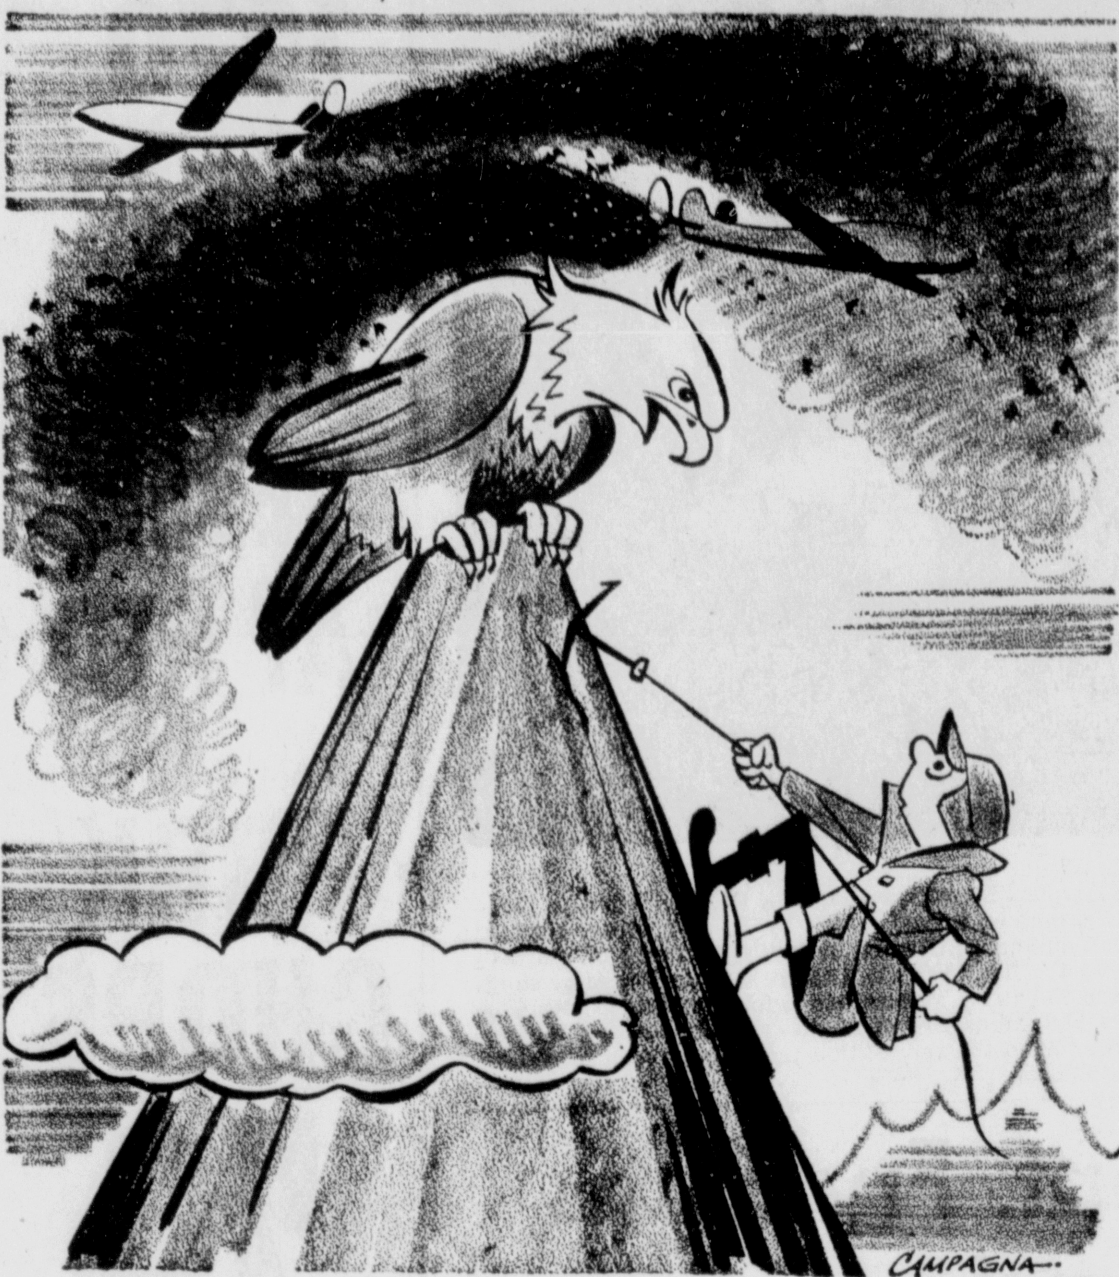

The temptation to license only friends of the government undoubtedly would be too strong to resist.

The economic impact of the second running of the International 500-mile snowmobile classic at Sault Ste. Marie amounted to $935,000. In a letter from Data Processing, a Sault-based firm, to International 500 committees, figures indicate that 75 per cent of the impact came from clients seeking food, lodging and service station services, 19 per cent from secondary services such as entertainment and the remaining 6 per cent by other firms in that area. The period of analysis ran from Jan. 23-Feb. 9 and also showed an impact on communities as far south as St. Ignace and as far west as Marquette.

This is the first shipment of homes utilizing containerized freight service where loading is accomplished at the factory in Norway and the containerized trailer is transferred by highway tractor to the Elizabeth, N.J., dock where the trailer is then put aboard a regularly scheduled trawler. At the port of destination, the same trailer container is lifted from the ship and placed on a waiting truck chassis for immediate delivery to the consignee.

"SCRAM, YOU-YOU AIR POLLUTER!"

Labor, Conservatives Oppose Welfare Plan

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Don't look now, but there may be a strange axis in the making: the AFL-CIO seems to be finding common cause with the American Conservative Union in opposing President Richard Nixon's scheme to guarantee every American family of four a basic income of $1,600.

The motives for the opposition, to be sure, are not precisely the same in both cases.

The conservatives are worried about the cost of the Nixon program, which, according to ACU accountants, will add 12 million people to welfare rolls and $10 billion — or $275 a year in additional taxes per working family — to the current welfare bill.

The AFL-CIO, in one of its midwinter communiques from Miami Beach conference headquarters, fears that if welfare recipients were compelled to register for jobs in order to get the new basic income payments, it would be a signal to the unscrupulous employer to offer substandard wages. The employer might figure that the government stood ready to subsidize part of the wage bill.

Whether the ACU and the AFL-CIO can get together on a Capitol Hill lobbying effort to defeat the Nixon plan is debatable. But there have been stranger "united fronts" in recent legislative history. Who, a year ago, would have believed that Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi and Sen. Abe Ribicoff of Connecticut would take the same legislative stand on a school integration issue?

The AFL-CIO, whether it knows it or not, is basing its objections to the Nixon proposal on reasoning offered by the new capitalist class at the very dawn of the industrial revolution in England. The 18th century English poor law was very similar to the Nixon idea of the guaranteed family allowance. According to a standard worked out by the magistrates of Speenhamland in the agricultural county of Berkshire, farm laborers were granted subsidies in aid of wages any time the price of bread exceeded a certain figure.

The Speenhamland scale was accepted over most of England as the proper guarantee of the "right to live."

Naturally, the land owners of the time used the Speenhamland payments as an excuse to keep farm wages down. But, more significantly, country folk who could count on a minimum in their traditional surroundings had no incentive to take jobs at the new factories in Manchester. The industrial revolution couldn't find a working class until the Speenhamland law was repealed.

Theoretically, if the 18th century landowners had been compelled to pay a high minimum wage, there would have been no need of Speenhamland. But British farmers on the margin would have gone out of business (and this on the eve of the Napoleonic wars!), and the industrial revolution would still have had terrible growing pains.

Who knows, if the Speenhamland system had been maintained, or if an agricultural minimum wage had been substituted for it, the industrial revolution might have been long delayed—and there might not be any AFL-CIO today.

The fact that the ACU and the AFL-CIO are both against the Nixon guaranteed income payments, though for entirely different reasons, reveals some of the dangers of monkeying too extensively with the economic buzzsaw.

Does anyone really know what a guaranteed annual income divorced from the "market" would entail?

If it were accompanied by a rise in the current minimum wage from $1.60 to $2 an hour, the ACU's fears that nobody would rush to offer jobs to welfare workers under the Nixon plan of "work-or-else" might all too easily come true. Instead of floating people off into a productive economic system, the Nixon guarantees might have to be extended to an even greater number on welfare.

On the other hand, if the "work-or-else" compulsion of the guaranteed income plan were enforced at a low wage standard, the inflationary or high tax consequences of the needed supplements might be all that the ACU predicts. A government dedicated to paying an important part of the total wage bill would be in a bad way for raising funds for other purposes.

The Administration, according to the ACU, has promised that it "has no intention of using its welfare reform program to create a cheap labor market." But the ACU adds that the "inescapable consequence is a 'no-labor' market."

The AFL-CIO couldn't like that either; it has pronounced, in Miami Beach, that "people cannot be forced into jobs that do not exist, they can't take training programs that aren't yet functioning or put their children in day care centers that haven't been built."

With "right" and "left" against it, it could be a cold day for the Nixon Welfare Plan.

Letters To The Press

SAVE OUR WHITEFISH

Department of Natural Resources — spare the Whitefish anymore of your coho favors. Stocking more salmon in the Whitefish River or any of its tributaries would be bordering on criminal responsibility.

To turn the East and West branches of this excellent traditional trout river into the fiasco that was — and is — being perpetrated on the Haymeadow would sound a catastrophic death knell to an increasing population of trophy size brook trout. It would also reduce the respect fishermen have for the Department's fish division to the level deer hunters have of the game division. By analogical comparison, a depth any lower could only be found at the bottom of the ocean.

One needn't be a fish biologist to comprehend the voracious appetites these fish must have enabling them to transform themselves from tiny smolts into 20 pound plus monsters over a span of only two years! Not only are these swimming vacuum cleaners in competition for the brook trout's food, they also relish a succulent meal of the tasty trout.

If a few of our native brook trout luckily manage to escape becoming forage for the salmon, then they must compete for spawning space as both are fall spawners. Even in the boxing ring we're humanitarian enough not to match lightweights with heavyweights. A neck two pound brook trout is absolutely no match for a cannibalistic 20 pound salmon.

Under these conditions there can be only one outcome for the brookies dubious future. He's bound to come out the loser!

However, the damage these misplaced fish cause doesn't stop here. Biologists have found they cannot (thank God) reproduce themselves in fresh water in numbers large enough to guarantee perpetuation of their species. It goes without saying the annual stocking of hundreds of thousands of these fish merely to have them die after two years can only be a very expensive proposition.

And speaking of dying. Who in their right mind would sanction the pollution caused by the rotting carcasses of thousands of these decaying monsters? We have too few unpolluted streams similar to the Whitefish remaining in the entire U. P. Why deliberately set out to spoil these?

If you don't believe salmon are pollutant, I implore you to check the bottom of the Haymeadow Creek where the Department's barrier weir unsuccessfully attempted to block the fishes' upstream progress. The bottom is mounded with thousands of dead coho! If this isn't enough to convince you; go over to Thompson and see stacks of frozen, rotted fish, that unless quickly cleaned up will aid in polluting Lake Michigan, or worse yet, contribute their pesticide riddled bodies toward the contamination of herring gulls and other birds prone to feed on their remains.

Even though a program were initiated providing for an equitable harvest of these fish, in combination with a solution for preventing waste and pollution, this trout fisherman and hundreds like him can see no benefit salmon do when introduced into a good trout stream. Glamorous in the lake they are, but in our streams they're something else again.

So Department of Natural Resources, spare us anymore of these "Jekyll & Hyde's" of the piscatorial world, but if you insist on stocking more of these living pollutants and adding to our already horribly fouled up ecology — put 'em in a river already turned sewer like the lower Escanaba and leave our remaining good streams alone!

Petitions are being circulated in Rapid River, Gladstone, and Escanaba in an attempt to halt the proposed plant of over 100,000 salmon in the East and West branches of the Whitefish River.

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 1 NT 3 ♠ 4 ♠
Pass 4 NT

Opening lead—four of hearts. Incredible things sometimes happen at the bridge table, even in the most important championships. Look at this hand from the Italy-U. S. match in 1963.

At the first table, with an American pair North-South, the bidding went as shown.

South's notrump opening was rather unusual, but many other players undoubtedly would have chosen the same bid. When the Italian West (Avarelli) overcalled with three spades, North cuebid spades to show a void and great interest in reaching a slam.

Obviously, North was asking partner to select his best trump suit, but South, for reasons unknown, bid four notrump, deliberately suppressing his excellent diamonds. Perhaps North should not have passed, but he did.

So South wound up in four notrump as a result of this unusual auction. Avarelli found the killing lead of a heart, and East (Belladonna) took the ace and returned a spade.

Then came the deluge. Avarelli cashed eight spade tricks and declarer went down six! Six diamonds could not have been defeated!

At the second table, the bidding was comparatively normal. With Forquet and Garozzo North-South for Italy, it went:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♠	4 ♠	5 ♠
6 ♣	Pass	6 ♠	Double

Forquet cuebid spades here also, but this proved ineffective when the American pair sacrificed profitably at six spades against the imminent diamond slam.

Forquet doubled, but all he could collect was 300 points. He led the A-K and another club, which dummy ruffed and Garozzo overruffed. Declarer then took the rest of the tricks.

So the outcome was that the Italians showed a profit of 300 points at each table after the pyrotechnics were all over. It just goes to show that almost anything can happen when good friends get together.

Supt. W. E. Olds of the public schools made a most interesting talk during the regular lecture period, when he related briefly some of the more pertinent of his experiences in Detroit and Cleveland during his recent attendance at the annual meeting of the superintendents' division of the National Educational Association. Olds told of visiting the schools in both Detroit and Cleveland and his talk was along lines which held the closest attention of both pupils and teachers for a full hour.

The first "apple polisher" in recorded history was a Sumerian schoolboy who, some 2,000 years before the Christian era began, buttered up his teacher with a home-cooked meal. Tablets unearthed in Iran related this story.

Saying 'I Love You' Can Spoil The Act

Dear Ann Landers: I love Wilma and show it in every way I know. She is 22 and I am 24. The only thing we fight about is that I don't say "I love you" often enough. About every ten minutes she asks, "Morris, do you love me?" I say, "Yes, Wilma. I love you." Then she says, "If you love me, why don't you say it?" Then I reply, "I DID say it. Didn't you hear me?" Then she says, "Yes, I heard you but I had to TELL you to say it." Then I say, "Wilma, what's the difference?" Then she says, "If I have to tell you to say it, it isn't the same as if you said it on your own." The next thing you know we are fighting.

Last night, Wilma started in again for the tenth time—"Morris, do you love me?" We went through the whole routine. This bugs me something awful and I'd like to know what to do about it. It's the only thing we ever battle about—Chewed Cabbage.

Dear Chewed: Some women need constant reassurance and obviously, Wilma is one of those women. Cultivate the habit of saying, "Wilma, I love you," whether it makes sense, or not. Hook it onto something else.

For example: "Please pass the salt, Wilma. I love you." It costs nothing and it will make her happy.

Dear Ann Landers: Something is bothering me and, like many others, I'm taking my gripe to Ann Landers.

I've searched this city and can't find an attractive BOY doll. There are a few ugly caricatures around, but no doll that truly looks like a boy. The stores are loaded with beautiful girl dolls—complete with wardrobe for every occasion—but I am unable to buy a decent boy doll. Can you help?—Grandma

Dear Grandma: I'll try. Dear Doll Manufacturers: Why don't you get busy and make some decent boy dolls? You're missing an untapped market, fellas. And P. S.: Please don't send me samples of your boy dolls. I can do nothing for you and I don't accept gift merchandise.

Dear Ann Landers: We hear a lot about people who can't seem to get anyplace on time. What about those rare birds who always show up early? Is there a cure for THEM?

A certain couple in our crowd always arrives at least 30 minutes before they are expected. If it's a dinner party, early arrivals can be a pain in the neck. A hostess has last minute things to do and she needs every second before the guests arrive. My routine is to get the house and food details out of the way. Then I use those last thirty minutes to shower, dress, apply makeup and pull myself together.

Accidental Poison Deaths On Increase

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Fatalities from accidental poisoning have increased 70 percent in the United States in the previous decade. Last year there were 2,400 cases, and half a million children under the age of five were made ill by swallowing toxic materials but survived.

It cost the average motorist about $1,449 to drive his car 10,000 miles a year—but even if he never took it out of the garage it still would cost him about $1,053, including depreciation, insurance and registration fees.

32 Egyptians Die In Israeli Raids

By The Associated Press
Egypt reported Israeli planes killed 32 soldiers and civilians in a raid on Egyptian military positions in the central and southern sectors of the Suez Canal Sunday.

It was the second time in two weeks that Egypt had charged Israeli attackers with causing heavy casualties. Egypt said on Feb. 13 that Israeli planes killed 70 civilians in an attack on a scrap metal plant 17 miles north of Cairo.

The announcement today by the Middle East News Agency did not say how many of the dead were troops and how many civilians. But it said the civilians were "working with the armed forces."

The Israeli military command in Tel Aviv announced three raids across the canal and said some planes penetrated 15 miles into Egypt. The command said all planes returned safely. There was no estimate of the raids' effect.

Talks Resume

WASHINGTON (AP) — Railroad union and industry negotiators are scheduled to resume talks today in an effort to break their deadlock over contract negotiations that threatened a nationwide rail shutdown.

William Berger Taken By Death

MANISTIQUE — William Arthur Berger, 57, of 620 W. Elk St. died Sunday morning at the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit where he was a patient for six weeks.

He was born Aug. 5, 1912 in Manistique and was a life long resident of the area. He attended local schools and was a 1932 graduate of Manistique High School.

Mr. Berger was a former mayor and city councilman and during World War II accepted an interim appointment as Manistique Chief of Police. In 1946 he began employment with the Inland Lime & Stone Co. as a railroad engineer. He was a member of Local 4302, AFL-CIO, the Volunteer Firemen and the First Baptist Church.

He is survived by his widow, the former Beryl Edith Jones, whom he married Oct. 23, 1937 in Manistique; two sons, William L. and John Arthur of Manistique; two daughters, Mrs. Herbert (Patricia) Calhoun of Manistique and Mrs. Dennis (Beth Ann) Hewitt of Milwaukee; four sisters, Mrs. Claude (Pearl) Byers of Southfield, Mrs. John (Myrtle) Driver of Detroit, Mrs. Carl (Blanche) Lyntz of Manistique and Mrs. Burton (Florence) Jones of Beloit; three brothers, Robert (Pete), Richard and Ferdinand, all of Manistique and six grandchildren.

Friends may call after 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Messier-Brouillette Funeral Home and complete funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the funeral home. The Rev. Curtis Haas will officiate and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

There is a good reason why the American consumer sometimes has trouble making up his mind what to buy. Each year some 6,500 new products are put on the market for his consideration.

If you had the lung capacity of a whale, you, too, could stay under water for an hour without having to come up for air.

There is a simple explanation of why people grow old and die. With the passage of time the organs of the body slowly lose their cell-making ability. Old cells expire faster than they can be repaired or replaced by new cells. Scientists feel human immortality would be at least theoretically possible if a drug could be found that would stimulate the body to maintain its youthful cell-making pace.

Worth remembering: "Whether a fellow ends up with a nest egg or a goose egg often depends on the kind of chick he marries."

Council To Hear Financing Plan For Rest Center

A report on the financial contribution of the business community for the downtown rest center development will be made to the City Council at its meeting to be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Civic Center.

The rest center will be in the building at 11th and Ludington Sts., a former gasoline service station, and the gift to the people of the community by the Standard Oil Co. The cost of remodeling the station as a public rest center will be shared by the city and the business people.

The Council will give second reading, public hearing and adoption to an ordinance amending the subdivision ordinance; and first reading to an amendment to the parking meter ordinance.

A report and recommendation on utility pole bids; and adoption of a proclamation that March be observed as "Stop Smoking Month" will come to the Council for consideration.

Couple, Poodle, Goldfish Killed In Detroit Home

DETROIT (AP) — Police reported no progress Monday in the investigation of the savage weekend slaying of a West Side Detroit couple.

Dale Flynn, 65, and his wife Marge, 60, were stabbed and beaten to death in their home Saturday by attackers who ransacked their house.

The Flynn's pet poodle had been strangled and even their goldfish were killed.

"Nothing new has developed," a police spokesman said Monday.

Police said Flynn was attacked in front of his garage then dragged inside, where his body was found. His face was beaten beyond recognition. Mrs. Flynn, clad only in a nightgown, was stabbed in the heart.

The couple's car was missing but was recovered later nearby. Police theorized that robbery was the motive in the slayings.

ROCHESTER (AP) — Young men fleeing to Canada to avoid the draft should be granted amnesty after the Vietnam War, Michigan Democratic Sen. Philip Hart believes.

"I would be in favor of and fully support amnesty for Americans who are presently in Canada because of Vietnam. That is what will have to happen," Hart said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph de Jesus is a heroin addict who says he started using drugs a year ago. He is 12. "I used to see my friend doing it and I didn't want to be left out," he said.

"I started mainlining about six months ago. I learned how to do it in the street—in my neighborhood. I even sold drugs in my school for $2 a bag. I had a lot of customers," he said.

The boy's matter-of-fact testimony was given recently before a state legislative committee hearing on drug addiction. The audience of 50 spectators and 10 legislators was hushed, leaning forward to hear his quiet voice.

"Nobody taught me, nobody forced me," the frail, 60-pound youth testified, "but I didn't want to be left out when I saw my friends use drugs." He said he had taken his last fix eight days ago.

Ralph, dressed in a red sweater and brown plaid pants, sat on the lap of Dr. Judianne Densen-Gerber, clinical director of Odyssey House, where he is receiving treatment.

He said that none of his six older brothers and sisters used drugs.

Ralph said he stole pocketbooks, broke into apartments and "even mugged some people" to support his habit.

Asked how he could do that, given his age and size, he said, "I did it with some of my older friends. One of them was 20 and he carried a gun."

Dr. Densen-Gerber said the boy might be exaggerating on the mugging, but added, "Even if he is, it's not the kind of story I want my children to be dreaming up."

Assemblyman Manuel Ramos asked the boy where he lived and was told he was from Ramos' district in the South Bronx. Ramos left the room with tears in his eyes.

He returned later and pleaded with the committee to recommend harsher punishment for drug pushers and mandatory urine analysis as part of the antidrug program in the schools.

Bark River PTA Meeting Held Last Week

Four members of the Delta Intermediate School District special education staff presented an informative program at the meeting of the Bark River-Harris Parent-Teachers Wednesday evening.

They were: Vernon Andrews, school psychologist; John Lindholm, mental handicapped and director of the J. F. Kennedy School in Escanaba; Carol Cleveland, speech therapist, and June Hanson, school social worker.

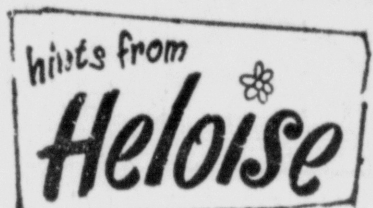

Jack Wicklund told the members of the PTA that the library is available to all students at any time during the school day, the only exceptions being when the room is needed for meetings or tests and during the noon hour.

Mrs. Lenord Bower volunteered to serve as chairman for this year's flouride program and a new high school teacher, William Woolford, was introduced.

Harold Bergquist, PTA president, announced that a State PTA Convention will be held in Menominee on April 28, 29 and 30 and a workshop will be held at Wells State Park. Anyone interested in attending these meetings may see Mr. Bergquist for further information.

Mrs. Carl Ahlin reported on the exchange student program. The student's transportation is paid by the exchange organization and the student must have money for personal expenses only. Room count was a tie between Mrs. Ahlin's morning kindergarten and Mrs. Wicklund's first grade.

Second grade mothers furnished lunch. Next month's meeting will be held March 18 with the first grade mothers in charge of lunch.

By HELOISE CRUSE
Dear Heloise:
For those who love garlic but hate to bite into a bud . . . ouch!
I "melt" it by the following process:

Remove both ends and the outside skin of any dry garlic bud and cut it in very thin pieces. I usually do this in a little wooden or crockery bowl I save for this very purpose. Sprinkle with lots of salt and (this is where what I call the "melting process" begins), using the butt end of anything wooden such as a screwdriver, icepick, wooden mallet, etc., start mashing and stirring. The garlic bud dissolves and it's now ready to be put into your salad oil and vinegar, spaghetti sauce or what have you. . .

Jerri Myers
Well, well, well. I absolutely thought that either I had lost a page of Jerri's letter or that she had left one out. But after testing her idea, I discovered nothing was missing. Not even the garlic!
And think of those lucky people who won't have to bite into a hunk of that long-tasting goody hereafter.
We all love you, Jerri.

California Ladies Protest Midi Skirts

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Complaints arose over the below-knee skirt length called midi but nobody did anything about it, until the ladies planned POOFF Week.

"We're starting immediately to solicit signatures for a petition against the new, ugly, unfeminine fashions, especially the midi," say the ladies.

POOFF, which stands for Preservation of our Femininity and Finances, is the creation of two dozen women who live in and around Beverly Hills.

Most of them wear miniskirts. Time for action is short, the ladies say, because manufacturers and retailers are deciding now the skirt lengths to sell this fall.

Therefore, POOFF week begins March 8, when the ladies will bear down on collecting petition signatures.

"They say they will encourage both men and women to sign the petition, which will be sent to designers, to stores and 'to anyone who can stop this hoax.'"

President Juli Hutner says, "A lot of people might say we're a frivolous lot to spend our time on something like this when there are more important things to worry about. . . But suddenly someone is interfering with our lives. And they're trying to make fools of us. There are millions of women who can't afford to change their fashion every whiptitch.

"We do not want to be dictated to by a relatively small group of fashion designers either here or in France."

Police Get Okay To Remove Shoes

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Police can take off a man's shoes without violating his constitutional rights, the state appeals court has ruled.

Edward Trudeau, sentenced from Oakland County Circuit Court on Oct. 22, 1968, for second degree murder, appealed to the court on the grounds his shoes were taken from him in violation of his constitutional rights. The shoes were used for comparison with footprints found at the scene of the crime.

The appeals court upheld Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick Ziem in denying the appeal.

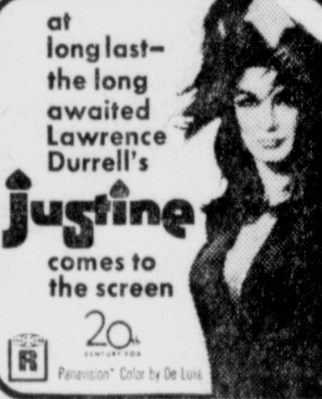

"The taking and use of his shoes in this instance did not violate his privilege of self incrimination. . . nor his right to be free from unreasonable search and seizure," the appeals court said.

Czechs Dominate Flying At New Copper Peak Hill

IRONWOOD, Mich. (AP) — Czechoslovakia is king of the hill —12.3.

It was in that fashion that Czechs dominated the first ski flying tournament ever held in the Western Hemisphere this weekend.

Adrian Watt, a 22-year-old from Duluth, Minn., finished fourth, the best performance by an American in ski flying since the current U.S. team coach, Gene Kotlarek, placed fourth 10 years ago in Yugoslavia.

Czechoslovak Jiri Raska, its gold medal winner in the 1968 Winter Olympics and runner-up to Russia's Gari Napalkov in the previous weekend's world jumping championships, finished No. 1 in the two-day tournament here.

Raska's teammates Zbynek Huback and Rudolf Doubek finished second and third respectively. Raska racked up 667 points in four flights. Huback had 658, Doubek 649 and Watt 647.5.

It was another 11 points down to Peter Stefancic in fifth place. The tournament was flown from the newly built 120-meter ski flying hill on the outskirts of this western Upper Michigan community. Olympic and other jumping competition is from 70- and 90-meter hills.

Sponsors estimated Saturday's crowd at more than 7,000 and Sunday's at 10,500.

The North American jumping record of 341 feet, held by 18-year-old Gregg Swor, was exceeded repeatedly here, but the longest flight of 456 feet by Stefancic fell far short of the world flying record of 541 feet held by East German Manfred Wolf.

Adverse weather, which made copper Peak treacherous and delayed the beginning of competition for a day, caused officials to shorten takeoff runs and thus reduce flight distances. Iceing required a complete reworking of the slope only two days before competition was to begin.

Fliers, like jumpers, are judged on both distance and form, but flying distance is given by far greater weight than in scoring for jumping.

Swor, competing in his first year, finished 11th. The next American to place was Jerry Martin of Minneapolis in 23rd place.

Coach Kotlarek said Watt, who had competed in previous flying meets, did a bit better than he expected but that Swor and Martin disappointed him. He said Swor and Martin seemed a bit nervous.

Within two years, Kotlarek said, it was his opinion Watt will be as capable as Raska, and Watt, had he not fallen on his second jump Saturday, might have upset the Czech.

On the other hand, Raska fell on both Saturday flights but came back strong Sunday with successive flight of 128 and 122 meters (420 and 400 feet). Raska had a preliminary trial flight of 133 meters (436 feet) Sunday. Raska stood eight after Saturday's competition and Watt was sixth, the American, however, had Sunday flights of 120 and 121 meters (394 and 397 feet), both below Raska's windup flights.

Bing Leads Pistons Over San Francisco

By The Associated Press
When it became evident that Dave Bing Sunday afternoon that the Pistons' top scorer, Jimmy Walker, couldn't find the hoop, Bing got busy and put in 31 points to lead Detroit to a 116-99 National Basketball Association victory over San Francisco.

Walker, who normally has a 21-point average on the court, drew a blank although he played 35 minutes against the Warriors Sunday night.

Right behind Bing to take up the slack was Terry Dischinger with 28 points.

In other NBA action Sunday, Los Angeles defeated Boston 120-114, Philadelphia stopped Baltimore 104-99. Phoenix topped Atlanta 109-98, Milwaukee beat Cincinnati 120-114 and San Diego trimmed Chicago 135-122.

In the American Basketball Association, scores were Los Angeles 108, Indiana 105; Pittsburgh 119, Kentucky 109; Miami 109, Carolina 99; Denver 137, Washington 128; New York 128, Dallas 111.

Detroit managed to snap a three-game losing streak while handing the Warriors their fifth straight loss and 10th defeat in 11 games.

The Pistons took a 21-18 lead after the first quarter and extended it to 49-40 at the half. After three periods, the Pistons were ahead 83-70.

Bing scored 18 of his 31 points in the first half and contributed 11 more in the third period.

Clyde Lee with 23 points and Fritz Williams with 18, led San Francisco.

Los Angeles defeated Boston 120-114 Sunday while Philadelphia turned back Baltimore 104-99. Any combination of 76er victories and Celtics defeats totaling six will eliminate the defending champs from the Eastern Division playoff race.

Los Angeles' Jerry West and Elgin Baylor combined for 62 points, 39 in the second half, as the Lakers checked repeated Boston rallies.

West finished with 33 points and Baylor with 29. Each contributed six points as the Lakers went on a 19-9 tear early in the third period and took an 83-66 lead. With Jo Jo White showing the way, the Celtics closed to a 102-99 before the Lakers took command again. Don Nelson topped the losers with 30 points. Phoenix never led Atlanta until Connie Hawkins' basket in the final minute of the third period gave the Suns a 72-71 edge. The score was deadlocked at 83 before Gail Goodrich put the Suns ahead to stay with 7 1/2 minutes left.

Hawkins paced Phoenix with 30 points and Goodrich added 22. Lou Hudson scored 30 and Joe Caldwell 29 for the Hawks.

The Suns' triumph increased their third-place lead to 1 1/2 games over Chicago.

Substitutes Pat Riley and Jim Barnett combined for 21 points in the last period to trigger San Diego's victory over Chicago. Elvin Hayes topped the Rockets with 35 points while Tom Bierwinkle was high for the Bulls with 26.

The triumph snapped San Diego's four-game losing streak. The setback dropped Chicago within one-half game of fifth-place Seattle in the Western Division final playoff berth battle. Milwaukee, trailing by two points, ran off nine in a row at the start of the final period and went on to beat Cincinnati. Lew Alcindor led the Bucks with 32 points and Greg Smith chipped in with a career high 28. Oscar Robertson and Johnny Green split 46 for the Royals.

Palace'ia wiped out a 14-point third-period deficit with a 29-4 burst. Hal Greer had 38 points for the 76ers and Jack Marin 31 for the Bucks, whose high-scoring Earl Monroe was ejected after only six minutes for protesting a technical foul call.

Perkins Gets Second Place

PERKINS — The Perkins Yellowjackets clinched a second place in the Central League standings Saturday night by scoring a 69-64 victory over the Rock Little Giants in the season finale for both teams.

Perkins finished with a 7-5 record in conference play, putting them in a tie for second place with the Bark River-Harris Broncos in the league standings. Rock finished in the cellar with an 0-12 mark.

After Perkins moved out to a 39-28 margin at halftime, Rock came back in the third quarter to tie the score 46-46. The Yellowjackets picked up the victory by outscoring Rock 23-18 in the final quarter.

Brothers Joe and Dwayne Couillard paced Perkins in the scoring column with 15 points apiece, while Ken Simonsen added 14. Bob VanDamme 13 and Joe Lauscher 10.

Tom Lippens of Rock led all scorers in the game with 29 points on 12 field goals and five free throws.

The Rock junior varsity scored a 79-44 victory in the preliminary game.

Badgers Upend Michigan Five

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's Rudy Tomjanovich racked up 35 points to lead all scorers but it wasn't enough, and the Wolverines lost a Big Ten basketball game to Wisconsin Saturday, 90-86.

The Badgers moved into an 11-point lead late in the first half and then stood off a late Michigan rally in winning their 10th game of 22 played this season, and the fifth in 12 Big Ten clashes.

Michigan is now 9-13 for the season and 4-8 in the conference.

Junior guard Clarence Sherrod led the Badgers with a dazzling display of moves and a deadly jumper, which gave him 28 points. Senior center Al Henry chalked up 25 points for the Badgers.

Late in the game, Michigan managed to narrow Wisconsin's lead down to 6 points with Tomjanovich sinking four consecutive jumpers. But the Wolverines were forced to foul, and the Badgers held the lead.

Boston Captures Eastern Top Spot

By The Associated Press
The Boston Bruins pursued New York for 3 1/2 months and now it's the Rangers' turn to do the chasing.

The Bruins finally overtook the Rangers Sunday, moving into first place in the National Hockey League's East Division with a 3-1 decision over St. Louis after Chicago had beaten New York 3-1 in an afternoon game.

That gave Boston a one-point lead in the East and marked the first time since Nov. 16 that the Rangers had dropped out of first place.

Elsewhere in the NHL Sunday, Minnesota ended a 20-game winless string by blitzing Toronto 8-0 and Philadelphia tied Los Angeles 4-4.

In Saturday's games, Detroit tied New York 3-3, Boston shut out Chicago 3-0, St. Louis topped Montreal 3-2, Los Angeles tied Toronto 3-3, Pittsburgh edged Oakland 3-2 and Philadelphia whipped Minnesota 6-2.

The Bruins had dropped four points back of New York in the middle of last week but snapped back with three straight victories—the first one a 5-3 showdown with the Rangers Thursday night. New York managed only one tie in the last three starts and it cost the Rangers the lead.

The Black Hawks struck swiftly with early goals by Doug Jarrett and Jim Pappin wiping out a 1-0 Ranger lead built on Rod Gilbert's first goal in 10 games.

Then Chicago blacked into a defensive shell, protecting goalie Tony Esposito with a precise checking game that rarely allowed the weary Rangers a good shot on goal.

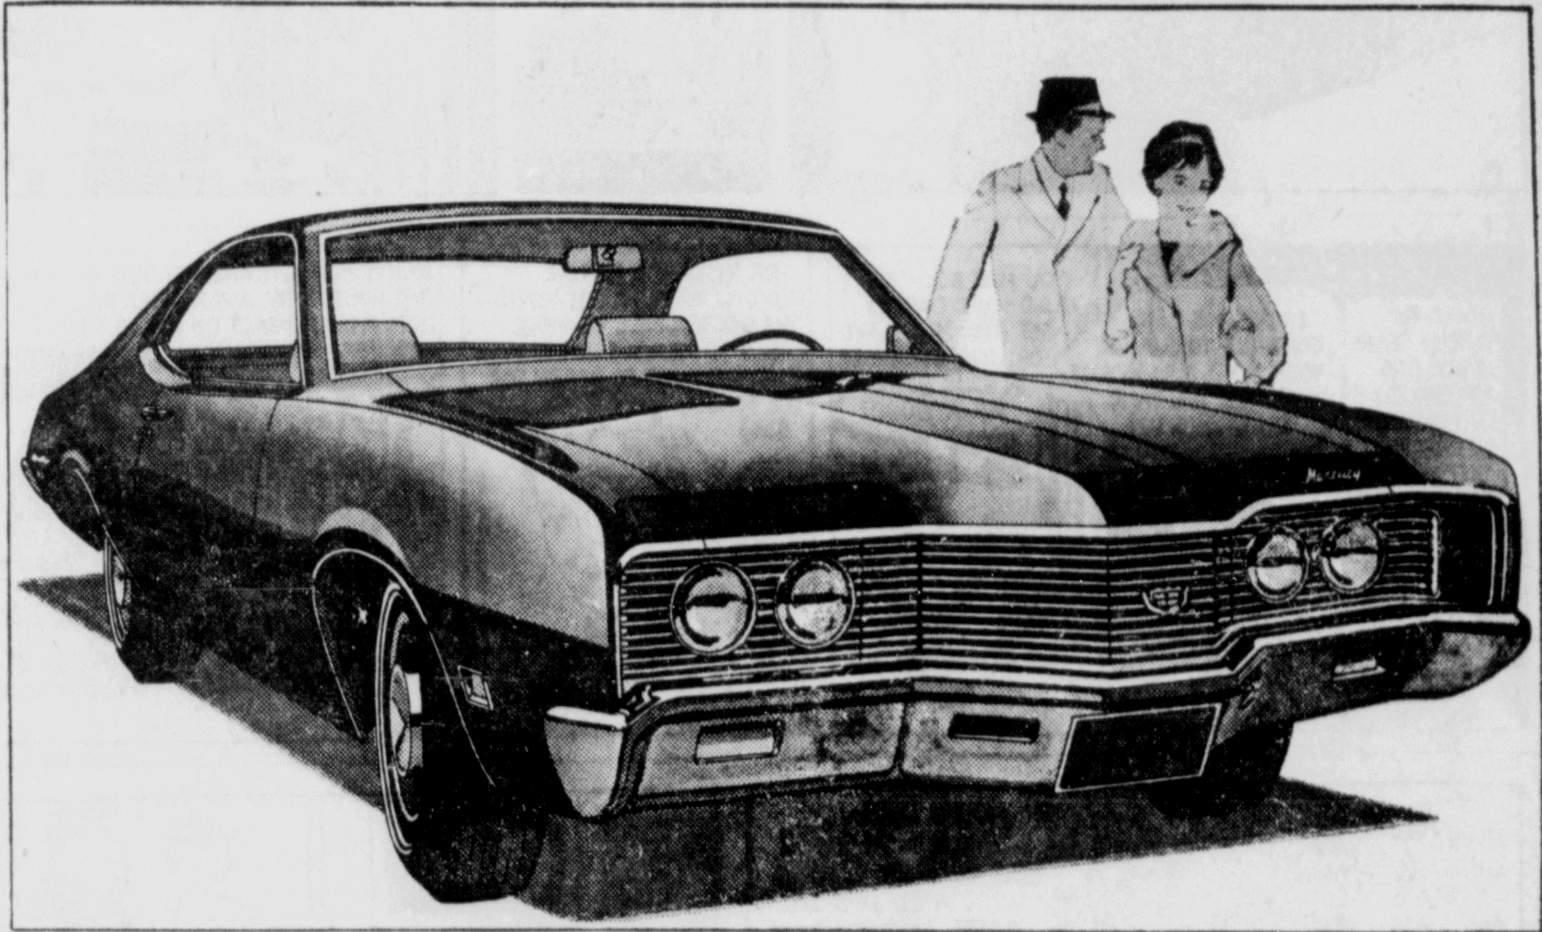

The Bruins were pretty strong defensively over the weekend, allowing just one goal in two games.

They had to come from behind against St. Louis, spotting the Blues a first period power play goal by Phil Goyette. Garnet Bailey and Phil Esposito clicked in the early moments of the second period and Bobby Orr's 25th goal of the season gave Boston some insurance in the final 20 minutes.

Billy Collins scored three goals and Minnesota finally snapped out of its long slump by battering Toronto. The victory was only the second in 5 games since Dec. 10 for the North Stars and ended a 45-day long winless string.

Bill Goldsworthy and J.P. Parise added two goals each for Minnesota and Coach Charley Burns suited up and lent a hand on penalty killing assignments, becoming the NHL's first playing coach in eight years.

The tie-prone Philadelphia Flyers blew a two-goal lead and then came back on a late goal by Jim Johnson for a deadlock with Los Angeles. It was the 21st tie of the season for the Flyers.

Bruins Win Way Into Cage Event

By The Associated Press

Two familiar faces—UCLA and Texas-El Paso—were among seven teams that won their way into the NCAA basketball Tournament over the weekend.

The once-beaten and second-ranked Bruins, going for their fourth consecutive national championship, nailed down the Pacific Eight crown by routing California 109-95.

Actually, UCLA has won five of the last six NCAA tournaments. The only intruder was Texas-El Paso, then known as Texas Western, in 1966. The Miners gained one of the 25 berths Saturday by edging Utah 83-82 in the Western Athletic Conference title.

The other five conference champs to make it were Iowa in the Big Ten, Davidson in the Southern, Ohio U. in the Mid-American, Rice in the Southwest and Temple in the Middle Atlantic.

Previous entrants were St. Bonaventure, Penn. Niagara, Villanova, Notre Dame, Western Kentucky, Jacksonville, Kentucky, Houston, Dayton, New Mexico State, Kansas State, Weber State, Long Beach State and Utah.

Three spots remain to be filled. Drake can take Missouri Valley laurels by beating St. Louis on Thursday, Santa Clara and Pacific are tied for the West Coast A.C. lead with two games left and the powerful Atlantic Coast Conference holds its post-season tournament next weekend to determine a representative.

Iowa, ranked ninth, withstood

Mike Hill Gains Fame By Taking Doral Open

MIAMI (AP) — Little Jackson, Mich., has long been famous as the site of the Michigan State Prison and as hometown to golf star Dave Hill. Now there's a new Hill in town.

Mike "Don't Call Me Dave" Hill pulled alongside his brother Sunday as a golfer of note by bagging the Doral Open Golf tournament and its $30,000 top money.

This fellow Mike is 31 years old, looks 21 and talks like he is 61. In the moment of his first great triumph, Hill No. 2 spoke of retirement.

"I was raised in a farming area and would like nothing better than to settle down on a spread of my own," said Mike. "I've seen this pro tour fray many a man's nerves. When that happens to me, I'm gone."

Hill grinned and said, "I guess I might have added a couple of acres with this $30,000 check."

Mike tried to give up golf when he was 16, but his father wouldn't have it.

"I enjoyed playing baseball, but daddy kept buying me golf clubs," he said. "I did manage to hold myself away from the game for quite a spell."

During a period of almost 11 years, Mike spent a year at Jackson Junior College, a year at Arizona State, three years driving a beer truck and two years as a construction worker.

"I decided there had to be an easier way to make a living," he said, "so I gave pro golf a whirl."

Things haven't come easy for Mike. He tried twice to pass the golf tour's entrance exams at the PGA National Golf Club in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., and twice he missed by one stroke.

Hill survived the third time around 22 months ago.

Mike began Sunday's final round at Doral with a three-shot lead. He once dropped into a "three-way deadlock but stormed back to win by four over Jim Colbert, a 165-pound former Kansas State football halfback.

"I didn't start matching myself against anybody until it was Colbert and me," said Hill. "I had a three-stroke lead then and decided to play for pars. If he could make three birdies in five holes on this course, Jim deserved to catch me."

Hill was calm as he picked up the check that nearly doubles his $16,239 earnings of last year. "I won't feel the true impact until Monday morning," he said. "I'm so pumped up now I'm numb."

Mike fired rounds of 70-69-69-71 for his nine-under par total of 279. He plans to lay around the plush Doral site for a couple of days, but won't play golf.

"I figure that I've licked this tough course to the tune of nine under par for four days," he said. "Well, I'm just going to let it lie until this time next year."

Mike fumbled down the stretch while piling up three second-place finishes in 1968. He had folded more often than producing under pressure, but Sunday was different.

"The kid was fantastic," said Dave, winner of $156,423 last year. "It would have been easier for me to play those last holes than watching. It was pure hell until Mike played safe on his second shot at the 18th and pitched on the green in three."

Mike parried the man-killing hole by holing a 15-foot putt, preserving his four-stroke victory over Colbert.

British rookie Brian Barnes tied for third with Larry Hinson and Bruce Devlin and Jack McGowan was sixth. Nobody else broke par for the 72 holes on Doral's Blue Monster course.

Dave Hill?

He shot a miserable 41 on the final nine, tied for 28th with such unnotables as Ross Randall and Joe Porter III and made $946.66.

That's Dave Hill. He's Mike Hill's brother, you know.

MANISTIQUE

Students Will Present Plays

The Manistique High School Dramatics Department is busy rehearsing several productions which will be presented in the near future.

On March 5 they will stage "Never Trust a Man" for the Lincoln School PTA with direction by Kay Gray and Barbara Clement. A contemporary Passion Play, "In His Steps," will be seen March 15 at the Zion Lutheran Church, also involving the talents of local singers and the Marsh Guitar Players. The play was presented twice last year and very well received.

The 120 Dramatics Club members are also receiving a series of one-act plays for presentation Saturday, April 4 in the auditorium. The audience will be seated at tables and coffee will be served. The lights will be turned up at the end of each play and the audience will be free to go or stay.

The one act plays and their student directors: "Great Smokies," Niki Johnson, Darlene Mersnick; "Where's That Report Card," Ruth Rogers, JoAnne Berger; "Keep Your Halo Straight," Barbara Chatter, Maribeth Pawley; "Itchin' To Get Hitched," Cheryl Jetty, Janet Gillam; "Sure As You're Born," Jeff Orr, Karen Jetty; "Never Trust a Man," Kay Gray, Barbara Clement.

The plays will also be presented Friday afternoon, April 3 at a 3:30 matinee for elementary and Junior High students. The Dramatics Club will present programs for Senior Citizens and local civic groups upon request.

The Club, with their advisor, Mrs. Earl H. LeBrasseur and student teachers John Wills and Trevor Stanislaw, attended the opening night performance of "The Odd Couple" by the Players de Noc of Escanaba at the Terrace.

Sponsor Needed For 'Grad Party'

Help is needed if a "Grad Party" is to be held this year according to the latest information.

With the Rev. Roy Pitts being transferred to another church, leadership will have to come from elsewhere, it was revealed.

The party is not a school-sponsored event, but anyone wishing to handle the reins this year can secure previous party records from Mrs. Esther Leveille, secretary to the principal at the high school.

Board Suggests School Building Funds Be Allotted

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education has recommended the Legislature appropriate $15 million this year to start a program of state funding for local school district capital outlay construction.

Dr. Peter Oppewall of Grand Rapids, board president, said the board repeatedly has called for such a fund but the Legislature never has given it final approval.

Oppewall said the board recognized this as only a "token amount" in relation to the actual need. But he said it would establish the principle of state aid for local construction of school facilities.

The board said debt retirement expenditures for the current school year are estimated at $144 million for such construction. The estimate for the next fiscal year is $159 million.

Meanwhile, the board said, schools are expected to spend more than $500 million a year for such construction between 1970 and 1975.

The board was told this cost estimate was made on the assumption that all Michigan classrooms more than 50 years old would be replaced by 1970. This has not happened, however, the board was told.

Learn Value Of Trading Stamps, Specialist Says

EAST LANSING (AP) — If you take the time to lick and stick trading stamps, you also should take the time to learn their value, says a Michigan University marketing specialist.

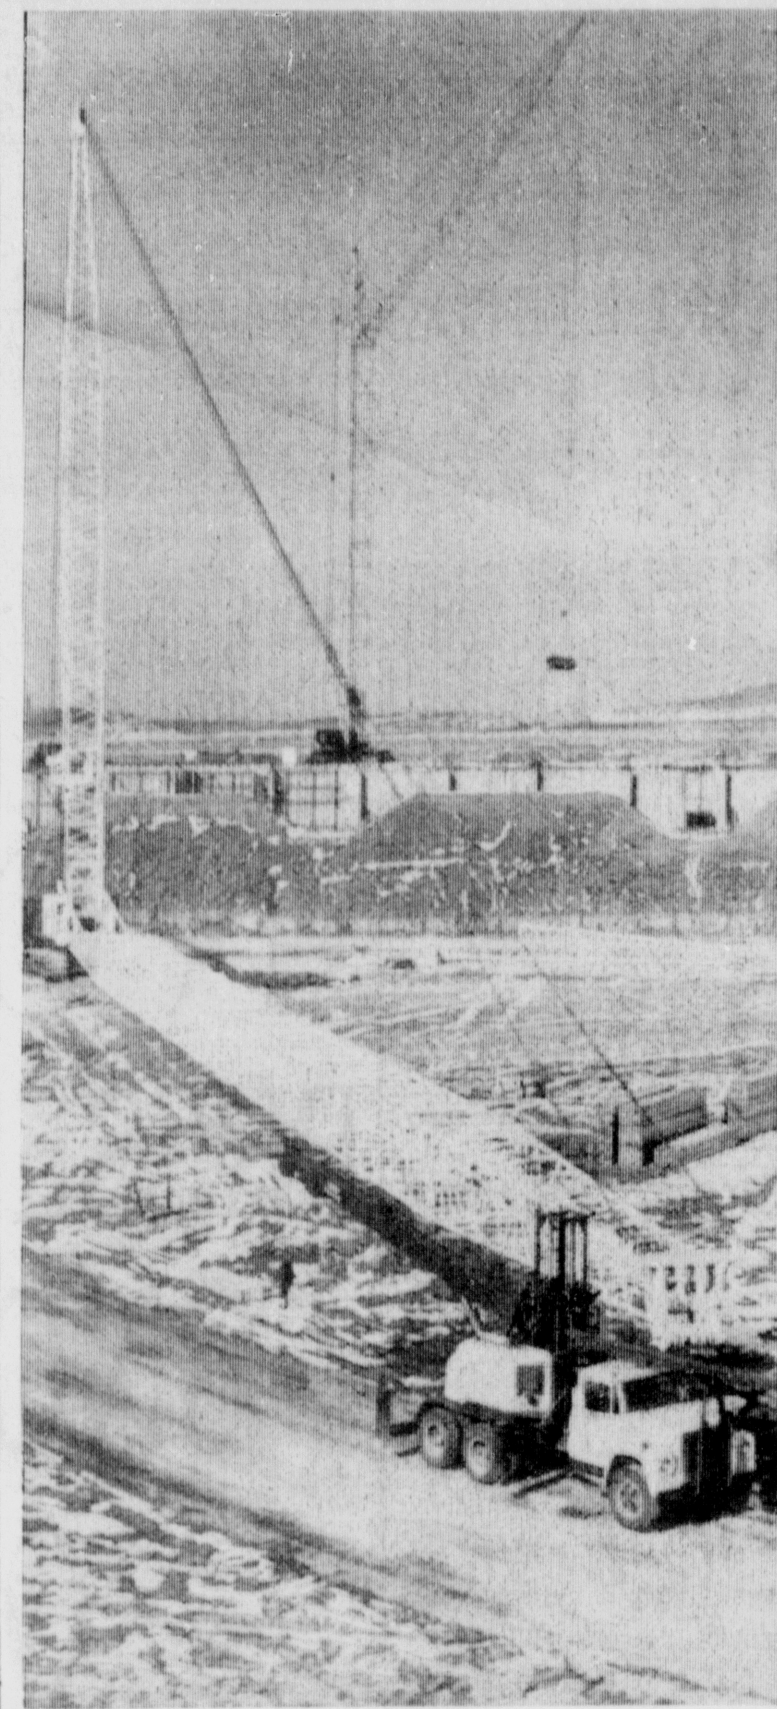

"Knowing the value of your stamps will keep you from getting licked when you redeem them," said Maryann Meldrum of the MSU Extension Service.

"When you know the cash value of a filled book, you can figure the dollar costs of the items in the redemption catalog and compare them with retail prices," she explained.

"You may find for example it takes $15 worth of stamps to buy a portable mixer that sells for $12 in a department or discount store."

A filled book usually is worth $2 or $3, depending on the company, the marketing expert said. She said the stamp collector can ask at the redemption center to make sure.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty-one million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

Television Ad Jolts Sheriffs In Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin sheriffs and their deputies have opened fire on the way one of the nation's top auto makers uses a sheriff image to sell cars.

The Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs Association, its attorneys reported Thursday, have lodged a complaint with Chrysler Corp.

The complaining letter from the 3,500 member association, said Wisconsin sheriffs and their deputies objected to a television commercial because of "the unfavorable light in which your pseudo-sheriff is cast."

One Chrysler Corp. TV commercial shows a pseudo sheriff stopping a girl of considerable beauty speeding in her Chrysler product. The girl points out the car's many features. The girl mentions the name of her uncle — the judge. There's no traffic violation charge.

The Association's letter notes the use of the word "pig," used by disruptive elements to describe law enforcement officers.

"The advertisement under discussion," the Association's letter said, "portrays the sheriff as being more animal than human, and thus squares with the intended goals of the violent members of our society."

A spokesman for Dodge Division in Detroit said Friday he has not yet seen the letter from the sheriffs' association but added, "Anything you do is going to get some controversy."

He said the "sheriff" of the commercials, actor Joe Higgins, was in Charlotte, N.C., being made an honorary sheriff of Mecklenburg County, the fourth such honor he has received.

Stroke Warning Signals Given

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Heart Association began Friday a campaign to alert the public to the danger of strokes and pointed out seven warning signals which often mark the onset of a stroke.

The association said the warning signals of stroke are: —A sudden loss of vision in one eye with complete recovery within minutes.

—Sudden weakness in an arm or leg with recovery ranging from several minutes to a day.

—Sudden and passing numbness of a prickling sensation in an arm or leg.

—Intermittent difficulty in speaking or understanding speech.

—Intermittent unsteadiness of gait, especially when arising from bed or from a chair.

—Double vision.

—Dimness of vision or blacking out, followed by gradual recovery.

WSU Hearing
